

NB: Currently both the stopOneElevator() and startOneElevator() method are set to be public, to accommodate the situation where only one or a few elevators' status needs to be change, however they will later be changed to private helper functions, if the status of elevators will be always be the same.